MEMORIAL DAY REMINDER

Of particular interest at this time when Memorial Day services and decoration of the graves is upon us, is a reminder that according to the flag code, flags may be displayed only from sunrise to sunset.

It has been customary in many localities, either through thoughtlessness or carelessness, to leave flags on the graves following Memorial Services, until they become faded and bedraggled. "To allow them to remain until they become soiled and torn shows flagrant disrespect to our National Emblem," says Colonel James A. Moss in "The Flag of the United States, Its History and Symbolism."

E. K. Inman of the National Tribune, Washington, D. C., in a letter written Mrs. A. J. Felter who inquired concerning the matter, advises that flags be removed as soon as possible after Memorial Day. "In the National Cemetery at Arlington," Mr. Inman points out, "three days are permitted for the flags to be collected from the graves; this is because of the great number of flags which are placed there. In the smaller cemeteries where there are no regulations, it is customary to remove the flags from graves as soon as possible so that there can be no desecration because of exposure to the elements."

A reminder also appropriate, is that while the observance of flag etiquette is a formality, it is also a gesture which strengthens our national consciousness and unity.

PROGRESS IN THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

Observant spectators and participants at the annual Lake County Firemen's gathering last Monday, were impressed by a phantom picture in the background, suggesting the various fire departments as they were at their origin. For the Antioch department, that picture up to 1923 contained no better equipment than the hand pump.

But it is not alone changed equipment which was impressive at that meeting. A definite and efficient organization not only within the individual village, but among villages, was apparent. President Bartlett, in his address of welcome that evening, briefly touched on this phase of development in county fire organizations. Like Mr. Bartlett, most citizens found the fire runs of Round Lake, Fox Lake and Grayslake departments, demonstrating their ability to co-operate, a commendable step in fire fighting organization. It is only fair to add that Mundelein and Libertyville had their part in the demonstration though neither appeared in the actual runs. Both these departments were prepared to replace the absent firemen should an emergency arise at any of the three villages.

Aside from the strides in inter-village organization which have been made, Antioch's Fire Department within the last ten years has progressed until today it is given the highest rating awarded by the Illinois Inspection Bureau to a town having no paid firemen.

The history of fire organizations in Antioch is old as the village itself, but the present system was not established until 1913 when the village board passed an ordinance which set up the present volunteer department in place of the old citizens' organization.

Frank Huber, retiring president from the County Association, was the first president of the Antioch Firemen's Association. In 1923, the department acquired its first truck, thus doing away with the old hand pump. Last year a second truck was added which carries a supply of water, has a greater pumping capacity and more power. With the two trucks the village has perfect protection when the department answers a call outside the corporate limits, for one truck always remains in the village.

Antioch's rating in the seventh class for fire protection came last year after the purchase of the new truck. To be given a sixth class rating, among other improvements, Antioch would be forced to employ a full time fireman and keep two men sleeping in the fire hall.

But Antioch's Fire Department has not developed steadily these years entirely without effort. Active and inactive members of the Association through their interest have been responsible for the improvements which have resulted from careful financing and planning. The best of plans, however, would be to no avail, if it were not for the active volunteers who are ready all kinds of weather, any time of the day or night, to endure discomfort to protect another's property. Antioch's volunteer firemen, more than any other organization in the village, deserve full co-operation and support.

Time and again I am told—by my own organization and by others—that I penalize myself by quality.

Friendly critics protest our putting into the Ford V-8 what they call "twenty-year steel." They say such quality is not necessary; the public does not expect it; and that the public does not know the difference anyway.

But I know the difference.

I know that the car a man sees is not the car he drives—he drives the car which the engineer sees. The car which is seen, comprises beauty of design, color and attractive accessories,—all desirable, of course. The best evidence that we think so is that they are all found on the Ford V-8.

But these are not the car. The car proper, which is the basis of all the rest, is the type of engine and its reliability; the structure of chassis and body, ruggedly durable; the long thought and experiment given to safety factors; the steady development of comfort, convenience and economy. These make the car.

A car can be built that will last two or three years. But we have never built one. We want the basic material of our car to be as dependable the day it is discarded as the day it is bought. Ford cars built 15 years ago are still on the road. It costs more to build a durable car—but two items we do not skimp are cost and conscience. A great many things could "get by"—the public would never know the difference. But we would know.

The new Ford V-8 is a car that I endorse without any hesitancy. I know what is in it. I trust our whole thirty years' reputation with it. It is even better than our previous V-8. It is larger, more rugged and mechanically a better job all round.

I readily say this in an advertisement because I know the car will back it up.

Kerner to Submit New Sales Tax Measure

Attorney General Otto Kerner will submit to Gov. Henry Horner for presentation to the legislature, a new Sales Tax measure. The bill, correctly designated as an occupational tax, has been drafted to meet illegality to the previous sales tax law determined by the Illinois supreme court. The amount of the tax may be 3 per cent.

Under the new measure, all of the monies collected would be paid into the general revenue fund. The legislature then could appropriate money to the purposes for which desired. The new bill does not exempt sales by farmers of their products nor sales of motor fuel. These exemptions in the old law were held invalid by the court.

The G. A. R.

The following information, concerning the Grand Army of the Republic organization, was contained in a clipping which Mrs. Bert Ray, a National Daughter of the G. A. R., requested be published. The information was compiled by Mrs. Mabelle J. Giggins, and Ruby M. Drury.

"During the winter of 1865-66 at Springfield, Ill., Dr. B. F. Stephenson of the 14th Illinois infantry in the Civil War organized what has grown to be a great national organization, the Grand Army of the Republic.

The maximum strength was in 1890 when the membership was 409,487. There were 35,934 on the government pension roll on Dec. 31, 1931. Every Republican president from Grant to McKinley served in the Civil War. Three men polled virtually the entire Grand Army vote. Many people think of the Grand Army as belonging to the past. It is the past that belongs to them, the past with all its tragedies and all its triumphs.

"That 'little bronze button' so dear to every member was adopted at the Minneapolis encampment, 1884. For many years the metal used in the manufacture of these buttons was obtained from guns purchased from different societies to whom they had been donated by congress. Of late years captured cannons have been used. These were purchased direct from the government.

"If you will burnish the G. A. R. bronze button as bright as you can, then take a magnifying glass you can read around the edge these words: 'Grand Army of the Republic'; on the lower edge you can find: '1861-Veteran - 1865.' Within the border there stands the Goddess of Liberty, in front at her right and left there are a soldier and sailor joining hands. On the ground between them there is a kneeling slave mother and child pleading with them in the name of the goddess to protect them in their newly found liberty. Back of the group at the left is a flag. This is the significance of the Grand Army button. The recognition pin of the National Daughters of the G. A. R. is a replica of the Grand Army button, set in a rim of gold upon which the words 'Daughters of the G. A. R.' is enameled in dark blue letters. The motto is 'Lest we forget the Boys in blue.'

"The following days are observed by the National Daughters of the G. A. R.: Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12; Washington's birthday, Feb. 22; Grand Army day, April 6; Grant's birthday, April 27; Memorial Day, May 30; Mother's day, 2nd Sunday in May; Flag Day, June 14; and Independence Day, July 4."

Garrigan's Orchestra to Play at Twin Lakes Ballroom Over Holidays

Jimmy Garrigan, popular young Music Corporation maestro, will bring his famous radio, recording and dance band to Twin Lakes Ball Room for a limited engagement of four nights on May 27, 28, 29, and 30.

Since the days of Jimmy Garrigan's first broadcasts in Pittsburgh, the orchestra has become nationally popular as a radio band. They were engaged to open the new Hotel Blum in Chicago a few years ago and at that time were heard over WBBM and WJBO, Chicago. Later they played an engagement at the Congress Hotel. For one year Jimmy Garrigan and his orchestra were featured at the Uptown Village, smart north side night club in Chicago, and during that period were heard on the radio regularly over WMAQ. The band left the Uptown Village to accept an attractive offer from the Via Laga Cafe and remained there for 10 months, broadcasting over WMAQ, WJBO and the NBC network.

Aside from Chicago engagements, Garrigan and his orchestra made a number of tours during which time they played the principal cafes, hotels and ballrooms in the middle west. They were recently featured at the Hotel Schroeder, Milwaukee and Fontenelle Hotel, Omaha.

Modernistic Buildings Are Prom Decorations

A section of the Planetarium and other Century of Progress buildings, reproduced as wall decorations added an unusual and modernistic note to the decorations of the Antioch High School gymnasium which became a ballroom last Saturday night.

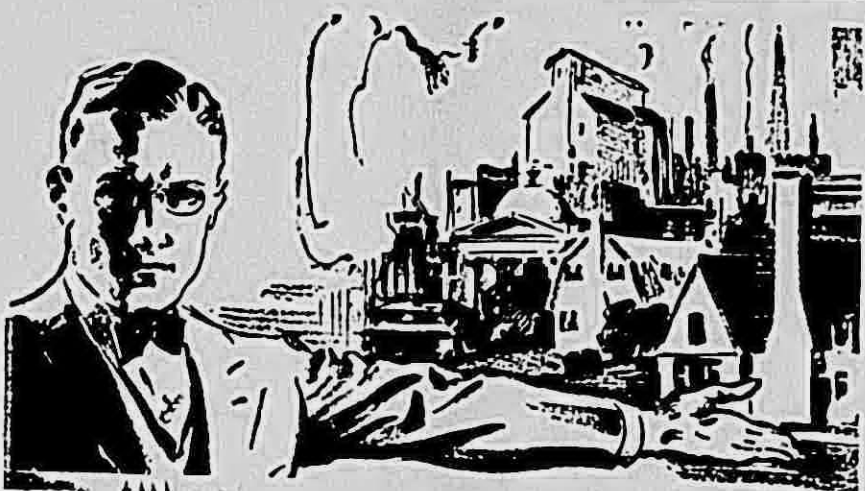

More than seventy-five couples danced that evening following the Junior-Senior banquet, at which the Century of Progress motif was carried out in the metal box souvenirs and in the blue and silver programs and nuptials.

Hundreds of balloons, skillfully placed colored lights and cellophane ceiling ornaments with the Fair building replicas, created a gay background in the gymnasium. Bright gowns, filmy, soft colored gowns, chiffons, organdies, crepes, nets, satins, voiles and piques, in the foreground, were an inseparable part of the occasion which is an outstanding event in the lives of upper class High School students.

SAVE For A Purpose

There are so many things for which you can save if you feel that you must save for a purpose other than independence in the future; a home, an automobile, travel, education, new furniture, clothes, in fact saving will get you all the things that make life worth living. When you have a goal to save for it makes it worth saving. Select your pet ambition and save now for its realization.

JUDGESHIP---

Waukegan. Dady asserted that Attorney Carpenter maintained offices in Chicago and had never practiced in this district.

Fischer Speaks

Judge A. E. Fischer of Rockford spoke in support of the entire ticket, pointing out that the district was a G. O. P. stronghold and that the judgeships have always been held by Republicans.

Max Przyborski, Lake County chairman, advised workers to urge their friends and neighbors to vote only for Republican candidates for Circuit Judge, inasmuch as Justice DeYoung, candidate for re-election to the Supreme Court on the Democratic ticket, is unopposed and a vote for him might lose votes for the Republican candidates if the ballots were not properly scratched.

County Clerk Lew Hendee declared that the vote on repeal of the eighteenth amendment would bring more voters to the polls than the ordinary judicial election. He praised the record of the sitting judges and urged their re-election. The Republicans are entitled to the three judgeships, he declared, because of "their victories in the district" in the November election.

Committees were appointed and plans made for an intensive campaign in Lake County. Speakers emphasized that the three Republican judges had the endorsement of the Lake County Bar Association.

HIGH SCHOOL NINE PLAYS FOR TITLE

Win Against Arlington Hts. Will Place Boys First in Conference

A deciding game of the Northwest High School conference will be played tomorrow (Friday) afternoon on the local diamond when Arlington Heights will go to bat against the Antioch High School nine. The game will be held at 4 o'clock, D. S. T., on the High School grounds.

Antioch's baseball team having played 7 conference games with no defeats chalked against its record, will take the conference title if Arlington is defeated in tomorrow's game. If Arlington wins, Antioch still has a chance at the title when Arlington completes its season with a game against Barrington. If Barrington wins, Antioch will still be conference champion in baseball. If Arlington defeats Barrington, Antioch will rank second in the conference.

Library to Be Open Tuesday and Friday During Summer Months

Starting next week and continuing through the summer, the Public Library in the grade school building will be open Tuesday and Friday afternoons only from 3 to 5 o'clock, D. S. T. Miss Mary Stanley, librarian, has announced. Miss Stanley states that the library may be open an additional evening if there are enough patrons who want this additional time. A study of Eskimo life, Arctic Village by Robert Marshall was received by the library this past month.

Century of Progress Material Is Leading Feature of School Exhibit

Evidence that an active study of The Century of Progress has been made at Antioch Grade School was an outstanding feature last Friday afternoon and evening of the annual exhibit which included art work, papers, scrapbooks, and various interesting projects.

An effort for practical application of knowledge and for creative work was apparent in the material of all eight grades in the display, pronounced by W. C. Petty, county superintendent of schools and former principal of Antioch Grade School, the best the school has ever had.

One of the exhibits based on Century of Progress material was a free hand drawing of the Transportation building, drawn to scale by a Fifth Grade boy, Billy Tschert. Billy had as his model a small picture one-eighth the size of his finished drawing.

Sky Ride Model Made

A reproduction in miniature of the Skyride at the World's Fair was an interesting project exhibited by the boys of the Sixth Grade. A composition road map, showing the fourteen routes leading to the Century of Progress, was exhibited in the Seventh Grade. Scrapbooks containing information and pictures of the Exposition were on display in the Fourth Grade room. Cut-out posters, resembling blue prints, and picturing World Fair buildings were displayed in an interesting border in the Eighth Grade room.

The application of classroom theory in several rooms developed interesting projects. Demonstrations of health principles formed part of the exhibits in the Fourth and Fifth grade rooms. A balanced meal, shown in actual foods which included a complete serving for one person, was demonstrated in the Fourth Grade.

State Officer Will Be Guest of Honor at Star Banquet Monday Night

Mrs. Gussie Hart of Chicago, associate grand matron, will be the guest of honor at the Eastern Star banquet to be held Monday night at the Masonic Hall in connection with Advanced Officers' night. Harry Cole, associate grand patron, will also be a guest at the banquet.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the occasion with Mrs. Charles Lux in charge of the dining room. She will be assisted by Mrs. Hugo Michell and Mrs. J. E. Brooks. A color scheme of orchid and yellow will be carried out on the tables with bouquets and candles. Hand painted place cards and colorful favors will add to the decorations.

Miss Louise Simons and Mr. Robert Wilton will be advanced to the east that night in the chairs of matron and patron. Miss Simons and Mr. Wilton are now associate matron and patron.

Grade School Teachers Will Spend Vacation in School and at Homes

Five Grade School teachers will spend their summer vacations this year in school according to their present plans. With the close of school Friday, all but two of the teachers will leave this week-end for their homes.

Ralph E. Clabaugh will attend the University of Illinois where he is taking work towards his master's degree. Mrs. Charles Lux and Miss Mary Galger will attend National College in Evanston. Miss Isabelle Harwood plans to attend the University of Wisconsin and Miss Mildred Byrnes the State Teachers' College at Oshkosh, Wis.

Oshkosh, Wis. Miss Helen Hitchcock, at present, plans to spend the summer months at her home, Lake Bluff. Miss Ayleen Wilson's plans are indefinite, but she will probably return to Kentucky for part of the summer. Miss Eleanor Meyer will spend the summer at Lexington with her mother, who is ill.

FIREMEN--

spection matters. The most perfect co-operation, therefore, should be the goal of our mutual efforts. It has accomplished a great deal in the past. It is the key to future success.

"A reduction of the fire waste of Illinois would be the means of saving millions of dollars worth of property to the people, and a reduction of the enormous fire premiums prevalent in this State.

"These benefits can be secured by all of us giving our earnest and hearty co-operation in the great work. It is the great economic problem before us today. We reason from the wrong premise when we figure that a loss by fire, covered by insurance, is not a loss to our people. A loss by fire is a loss forever. The fire insurance companies only pay money for burned property that is paid to the companies by the people in premiums.

"I want you to know that our office is profoundly grateful for the co-operation and assistance received from you in the past, and I desire to express our appreciation for the manifold evidence you have given, of your interest in the work of the department, and your readiness to assist whenever opportunity presents itself.

"Because of curtailment of our revenue, it has been necessary to reduce the number of our field deputies. Therefore, the co-operation of the fire chiefs of the state has become a matter of practical necessity and your assistance from now on will be doubly appreciated."

Bartlett Stresses Progress

Mayor George Bartlett, in the address of welcome at the opening of the meeting stressed the progress which has been made in fire organizations and equipment and the desirability of such co-operation as was shown in the demonstration runs of the afternoon.

Pete Steinkellner, Milwaukee fire chief and President of the Great Lake Chiefs' Association, and George McNelly, member of the National Board of Underwriters, Chicago, also delivered constructive talks during the evening. Mr. McNelly came in place of Ed Donovan, Chief Special Agent of the Board. A. N. Hostetter of the Vanston Fire Department and treasurer of the Great Lake Chiefs' Association, and other officials were introduced during the evening. Frank Huber presided over the meeting after the gavel was turned over to him by Lewis Van Patten, president of the Antioch Fire Department.

Huber Reviews Year

Huber, retiring president of the association, and for many years president of the Antioch Association, in his retiring address, spoke with satisfaction of the accomplishments of the year.

"This marks the end of the first official year of the Lake County Firemen's Association," Mr. Huber said during his address, "and as your first President, I am highly gratified at our accomplishments. I am especially pleased to notice the peaceful and loyal attitude of our membership, their sincerity of purpose and active participation. I am happy to be able to transfer to my successor in office, a live, active, and harmonious organization, with the hope that it shall accomplish even greater achievements, and that it may prosper in the years to come.

"I feel confident, that by the continued interest of the membership, loyalty and devotion to our cause, this association will survive, and do great things, and if so, I feel amply repaid for my efforts. In conclusion, I wish to extend to the association my sincere gratitude for the high honor which it has conferred upon me, and I hope that I have to some degree merited your confidence." Mr. Huber was presented with a gift by President Hoskins following the address.

More than sixty-five fire chiefs and their friends sat down to a dinner given by the Antioch Fire Department for visiting officials and Antioch Board members at Hotel Waldo following the afternoon's program.

In the afternoon's events, Libertyville, after triumphing over Highwood, took on Antioch and won over the Antioch tuggers thus taking the case of beer awarded to the winners.

State police, Legionnaires, visiting fire officials and village government officials, fire apparatus in use thirty-six years ago and present apparatus, and the Allendale and Antioch High School marched in the parade. Following the parade, modern fire fighting equipment was demonstrated by Pirsch Equipment, Kenosha, Stoughton Equipment, Stoughton, Wis.; Lux Extinguishers and P. D. Armstrong, Waukegan.

Entertainment during the evening was furnished by Jerry Havelka's one man drum corps, the Libertyville-Mundelein band and William Spillard, member of the National Board of Underwriters, Chicago, who was accompanied by Hans Von Holwede at the piano.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting at the Huber Paint Shop. Expenses of the day's meeting were estimated by John Horan to run about $250. Money for the convention was earned by the firemen on a benefit movie sponsored several weeks ago.

Wear Their Flower and Reawaken Their Spirit

Contributed

To America, now going forward in a great drive against the economic enemies which have invaded the country, a message from the men who fifteen years ago were giving their lives in defense of the country against an armed enemy. It comes in the form of the little red poppy that we will all be asked to wear on Poppy Day, May 27. It tells us to serve and sacrifice for our country now with the same patriotic spirit that those men served and died among the poppies in France in 1917 and 1918.

The poppy is a symbol of remembrance for the World War dead. Poppies growing on every coat on Poppy Day will show that we still remember and honor the supreme sacrifice our war dead made for America. A country which remembers deeds such as theirs cannot be indifferent to present calls for patriotic service. As long as the memory of our heroes is kept bright, America can be confident that heroic service will come from its citizens in every hour of need.

The women of the American Legion Auxiliary, who will bring us the poppies on Poppy Day, are carrying out a very valuable work for the country. With their memorial flowers they are helping keep alive a memory more precious than vast material riches—the memory of men who were willing to die that America might live in freedom and happiness. With the poppy contributions, they are helping carry on for the disabled veterans and fatherless families. With the poppy they are calling to us all to carry on for America in the spirit of those heroic men the flower commemorates. Every American who is a true American should show his response by wearing a poppy on Poppy Day.

Is your spare room ready?

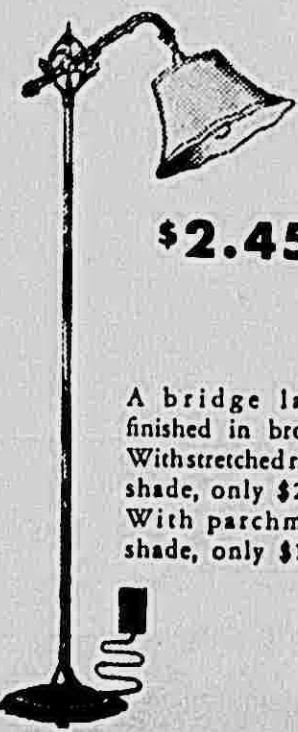

● IT'S GOING to be a busy summer for guest rooms! Company's coming. Relatives and old friends will be traveling hundreds of miles to Chicago for the Century of Progress Exposition. Surely you'll want them to spend a few days with you before they go back.

How does your spare room look? Is it ready for guests? We know it's spic-and-span clean, of course. But is it as cheerful and homey as you'd like it?

If it's just a little on the drab side, we suggest new lamps. Nothing brightens up a room with friendly charm the way lamps do. Put one on the bedside table, perhaps a twin set on the dresser, a junior floor lamp beside the easy chair—and see the wonderful difference they make!

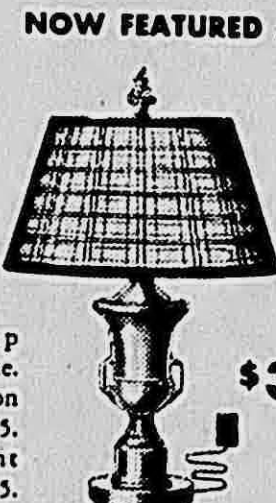

These lamps needn't be expensive. Displays now featured at your local lamp dealers and at your Public Service Store include many good-looking models priced under $5. You'll find some unusual values in lighting fixtures, too.

Electrical helpers like a vacuum cleaner, a washing machine, an automatic ironer and a food mixer will make it much easier for you to keep your household running smoothly when company comes. They let you speed through your chores without tiring yourself out. They're economical, too. A penny or two an hour is all they cost to operate.

A bridge lamp finished in bronze. With stretched rayon shade, only $2.45. With parchment shade, only $1.95.

$3.75

A charming table lamp with washable parchment shade in gay color combinations. Art crystal base to match.

$6.45

A handsome metal lamp with 24-carat gold trim. Comes in five popular colors with pleated shade of pure silk.

Your Cheapest Convenience

Electricity is probably the cheapest thing you can buy for your home. Don't skimp on good lighting—it's one of the prime secrets of a hospitable-looking house. For less than two cents you can light three reading lamps for one hour in the average home.

Guest Extermination Inspired Unless Art of Being Entertained Is Known

If entertaining is an art, to the same degree, being entertained is an art. A hostess of any experience will admit there are guests and guests, although on an average, they are more or less alike until—say the third day of a visit—when a hostess often conceives dark, secret plans for the extermination of guests—or pests.

The Milwaukee hostess who complained recently that her dinner guests ruin her rugs by stamping cigarettes into them, and take the finish off her grand piano by setting wet glasses on it, must be terrified at the prospect of entertaining a house guest, unless her candidates for this honor are chosen from another list of friends.

Few guests are so completely indifferent to their hostess' comfort as are members of Milwaukee "society" according to this woman. But most guests are lacking at times in consideration of their hostess and appreciation for her efforts.

A perfect guest, from the time she receives her invitation is sympathetic, courteous, and gracious. Invitations, like the knock of opportunity, are not to be expected to return if they are not answered. Unnecessary indecision, a delayed acceptance or regret which has no excuse except the recipient's tendency toward procrastination, is a discourtesy, whether the invitation is to dinner or to spend a week.

Those fastidious persons who have never attempted to make the best of any situation, not to their liking, should by all means remain at home if they are not certain that their hostess' surroundings will meet with their approval. Burdening oneself with discomfort is entirely one's own affair, but burdening one's hostess as well when she is striving to be pleasant and entertaining, never added a single laurel leaf to anyone's crown of popularity.

Broad Knowledge Required
Being a guest requires a broad social knowledge including such fine points as what to pack, how to pack it, how to impress favorably the family and friends of one's hostess, how to be pleasant without being fawning, and how long to spend at one's bath in a one bathroom house.

Clothes undeniably are an important factor in any visit. Without correct clothes no guest will be at her ease or entirely free to enter wholeheartedly into the activities planned for her enjoyment. Clothes for any visit should be planned with regard to the location of the hostess' home and the amusements which are likely to be offered.

Every attempt should be made during the visit to meet the suggestions of the hostess half way, and to fit in with the routine of her home. It seems the height of absurdity to warn an adult not to insist on having the radio turned on full blast until early morning in a household where the retelling hour is customarily before midnight, but whether it is because of our modern individualistic thought or merely the disregard for what once constituted good behavior, today's guest often assumes a freedom in a friend's house which she could not assume in a hotel where she was paying a pretty price for the hospitality she received, to say nothing of her own home.

It is not at all out of the way to add that the perfect guest harbors no illusion that her hostess' purse is a magic bit of leather which fills as it empties. That also seems a superfluous remark when addressed to adults, but there are guests and guests.

Guests' Golden Rule
No one could better profit by the Golden Rule, "Do Unto Others—" than the guest. She should go farther than practicing that rule by doing unto her hostess as her hostess would be done by. That making the effort for a successful visit is worth while, any guest will admit when she returns from a visit which has been refreshing in its change of routine and almost inspirational in the companionship it has offered.

There are guests and guests. A woman whose husband was justly proud of her charm as a hostess, once entertained a rather brusque friend of her husband's. She found him increasingly tactless and inconsiderate as his visit continued, but because he was her husband's friend she overlooked his faults, even after his visit had extended beyond the stated time.

One evening, tilting back and rocking on the legs of a chair which she rather prized, he broke the chair. She was annoyed, but she was a southern woman and cordiality in the face of the most extreme annoyance was her habit, so graciously attempting to place him at his ease, she apologized for having a chair which was so frailly built. Her guest was unperturbed by the accident which had

THESE are the days when I want to be out in the garden, or cleaning up the attic, or freshening my kitchen with a can of paint. So I'm apt to use some of these delicious time-saving desserts. They are quick and easy to make, and thanks to the coconut, are as festive and spring-like as any dessert I know.

Peaches Marguerite

4 dates, finely chopped; 1/2 cup pecans, finely chopped; 1/2 cup shredded coconut, finely chopped; 1 tablespoon cream; 2 teaspoons lemon juice; 6 halves canned peaches; 1 cup peach juice.

Combine dates, pecans, coconut, and cream, mixing thoroughly. Add 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Shape into small balls and place in cavities of peach halves. Serve with peach juice to which remaining lemon juice has been added. Serve 6.

Coconut Fruit Compote

1/2 cup shredded coconut; 2 oranges, free from membrane and cut in small pieces; 2 tart apples, pared, cored, and diced; 2 bananas, sliced; 1/2 cup dates, chopped; 8 marshmallows, quartered.

Mix coconut, fruit, and marshmallows together lightly. Chill. Serves 6.

Coconut Banana Snow

3 bananas, cut in small pieces; 1/2 cup powdered sugar; 2 teaspoons lemon juice; 1 egg white, stiffly beaten; 1/2 cup cream, whipped; 1/2 cup shredded coconut.

Combine bananas, sugar, and lemon juice. Chill. Force through sieve. Fold fruit into egg white, then fold in cream and coconut. Serves 6.

Tropical Delight

6 ripe bananas; Juice of 1 orange; 4 tablespoons brown sugar; 1/2 cup shredded coconut.

Peel bananas and cut in half lengthwise. Arrange in layers in greased baking dish. Mix orange juice with brown sugar and pour over bananas. Sprinkle thickly with coconut. Bake in hot oven until bananas are tender and coconut is brown. Serve immediately. Serves 4.

And since left-over bread is one of our constant problems, how about solving it with a de luxe coconut bread pudding?

Coconut Bread Pudding

2 cups milk, scalded; 2 tablespoons melted butter; 1 cup stale bread, cut in 1/2-inch cubes; 1/2 cup sugar; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/2 teaspoon vanilla; 1/2 cup coconut, almond extract; 2 eggs, slightly beaten; 1 cup shredded coconut, toasted.

Combine milk, butter, and bread cubes in greased baking dish. Add sugar, salt, and flavoring to eggs and beat slightly. Add to milk mixture and stir in coconut. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 45 to 50 minutes. Serves 6.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

WHEN you hear a person say, "I just eat to live," take it with a grain of salt. For after all is said and done everyone has favorite foods, and there's real satisfaction in an attractive, wholesome, well-cooked dinner.

Anyone with a 16 d d appetite is bound to get a thrill by going to market these days, for this is the season when nearby home-grown vegetables are very much in evidence. Asparagus, rhubarb, spinach, radishes, and green onions are examples.

Spring salads are popular whether served with olive oil and vinegar or salad dressing.

Oranges, new cabbage, and head lettuce are very plentiful and low in price.

The Quaker Maid Kitchen has planned three particularly appetizing menus for this week, using meats which are in good supply, and therefore reasonable in price.

Obviously been his fault and answered her apology with "Say nothing more about it. The best of homes have a piece of cheap furniture in them."

And then there is the guest whose gown may be ruined by some little thoughtless negligence of the hostess, who may be inconvenienced in a hundred ways, and yet continues to smile her assurance that these trivialities cannot ruffle her serenity. There are guests and guests, but most hostesses will agree that the world could do well with fewer of one variety, and more of another.

TEETH FOR A LIFETIME ARE BUILT IN YOUTH

More dental defects occur among children than all other physical defects. That fact alone explains why progressive communities insist on dental examinations for school children. Improper care of the teeth during childhood is also considered responsible for the appalling fact that the period of greatest dental efficiency in the average person is only ten years in length. This means that our chewing mechanism, which requires twenty years to build remains intact for only half that time.

Dr. Clarence O. Simpson says, "the guilt for this condition can be charged primarily to parents in deficient care and training of children, because the destruction of the teeth starts before the age of discretion," which means in every day language that parents do not insist that their children eat enough of the tooth-building foods, such as milk, fruits, vegetables and chewy foods. It also means that parents do not train their children to brush their teeth thoroughly and frequently.

Value of Parents' Example.

It is not enough for parents to tell their children to brush their teeth and eat the right foods. They must also see that their children act on the directions given them. One very practical way for the parents to do this is to set them a good example by giving their own teeth good care, including frequent dental examinations. The parents must work with the schools and other health agencies in seeing that the children establish and practice the proper health habits.

Of course the school dental examination in itself does nothing to improve the condition of the child's teeth. The value of the examination lies in calling the condition to the attention of the parents so that they will have the child's teeth cared for. Also—the re-examination is a means of showing whether the dental conditions are improving or getting worse. Possibly the most important function of these school-sponsored examinations is the object lesson which they present to the parents. They emphasize the value of having children's teeth examined regularly.

This is one of a series of articles on "How to Have Attractive Teeth" released in cooperation with and approved by the public service committee of the Chicago Dental Society.

Once a Tropical World

The story that the ancient coral deposits tell is that of a great change in climatic conditions that has been brought about through the ages. Scientists believe that at one period in the world's history tropical conditions must have been present the world over.

Sales Talk

Mrs. Lehman's Babyguard Ends High Chair Accidents

Mrs. Lehman puts the finishing touches to her Babyguard high chair, the first infant chair to eliminate bumps, scratches and tip-overs.

AN acrobatic baby with a genius for breaking safety straps and tumbling out of high chairs was the emergency that made Mrs. Elnora Lehman of Cannelton, Indiana, invent the first infant's high chair that makes tip-overs, bumps and bruises impossible. "Look around your own home and see what safety devices you've built, because they may be marketable just like mine," advises this young mother of three active youngsters who is still astonished to find that her kitchen experiments in high chair building have revolutionized infant furniture designs. She had built her Babyguard high chairs for her own children and friends for eight years, before a famous doctor pointed out their best-selling possibilities. Now stores everywhere are declaring them the first important improvement since high chairs were invented.

Feeding Your Family on Ten Dollars a Week

The responsibility of maintaining the family's health and well being has always been the duty of the wife and mother. Today this obligation is more important and more difficult than it has ever been before. It is more important because most families are under an extra strain at present and require all the vitality that good health can give them, and it is more difficult because with changing economic standards most incomes have been suddenly diminished, necessitating a readjustment of food expenditures. To help housewives in making this readjustment, without sacrificing either the palatability, economy or nutritive value of their meals, I am presenting to you a week's menu which will feed a family of five on ten dollars a week.

Each day's meals contain the nutritional essentials of an adequate diet, proteins, carbohydrates, fats, minerals and vitamins in the proper proportions. Four quarts (10 glasses) of milk are included each day. Since each child ought to have a quart a day, a glass is allowed for each meal which accounts for nine glasses. The remaining five glasses are used in cooking and as a beverage for the adults.

SUNDAY
Breakfast. Orange Juice, Farina, Toast, Scrambled Eggs, Butter, Coffee.
Lunch. Cottage Cheese and Apricot Salad, Cornmeal Muffins, Cocoa.
Dinner. Pot Roast and Gravy, Mashed Potatoes, Buttered Beets, Banana Salad, Bread, Butter, Chocolate Bread Pudding.

An Extended Trip

If about to embark on a long trip, have the eaves and roof of your home examined before you leave. Then there will be no nasty leaks causing ruined walls and furnishings while you are away.

Seventy-five Gather at Wilnot for IOOF Meet; Lodge History Reviewed

Seventy-five Oddfellows were present at the first meeting of I. O. O. F., No. 38, of Wisconsin, held at Wilnot last Saturday with several lodges represented in the gathering.

At a business meeting in the afternoon, officers were elected with Charles Morgan of Park City Lodge, Kenosha, chosen as president. Other officers elected were as follows:

Vice president, C. Frank, Racine, 137; warden, R. L. Hegeman, Salem, 42; secretary, Charles Hoch, Racine, 137.

A ball game at the Wilnot park between the South Milwaukee lodge and the Salem lodge followed the business meeting. Supper for a hundred was served at the Masonic dining hall by the Eastern Stars at 5:30. Golfing arrangements had been made at Our Country Club at Liberty Corners for members during the day and many took advantage of same.

The Rebekahs were entertained at the home of Leland Hegeman, Noble Grand of Salem 42, during the afternoon by Mrs. L. Hegeman.

A History of Lodge No. 42 from the time of its organization in a room of the Robbins home at Liberty Corners on January 18, 1850, up to the present was given by William Leske. Members were drawn from the towns of Antioch, Salem, Wilnot, Richmond, Wheatland, Bristol, Brighton, Kenosha, and Fox River. Their occupations were listed as brick-maker, miller, tailor, wool carder, wheel-right, harness maker, fisherman, cooper and saddler. On March 21, 1850, six members of the Salem lodge left for California and the gold mines.

The lodge presented five dollars towards the erection of the Washington monument in 1950. A Bible still in use, was presented to the lodge by Mr. Bacon in 1851.

The lodge has been inactive for years, then new members joined in 1925 and in 1932 it became active working as a lodge again, culminating in the meeting.

Rosing Distributes Seeds to Dependent Families on List

Free seeds for gardens have been distributed to more than twenty-five families on the township poor list during the past two weeks, according to Supervisor William A. Rosing, township postmaster.

Potato and all ordinary kinds of vegetable seed are included among the varieties supplied by the state. Mr. Rosing states. Practically all families on the list who have garden plots have called for seeds.

The planting of gardens by needy families should make an appreciable difference in the amount needed for relief work in the township next winter, he stated.

Girl Scout News

By Bernice Sherman

At the Girl Scout meeting Tuesday afternoon the Girl Scouts played two games for the contest which were won by Lion and Nightingale. The patrols lined up in a column, with the patrol leader in front. There was a stone in front of the leader which she had to pick up when Mrs. Phillips said, "Go." She would run up to the fence and touch it and run back and give it to the next person and she would do the same and so on until it came to the last one. She had to run up and touch the fence with the stone, drop the stone, and tie a square knot.

The Girl Scout badge and attendance stars will be given out at the Moose Hall, May 31. The American Legion Auxiliary will then serve us a nice lunch. The final contest will be held that day.
